In the Weeds Navigating Legal Marijuana in the Workplace

Hosted by

Wednesday, September 25th, 7:30 AM - 9 AM
Western Missouri Medical Center Conference Room
403 Burkarth Road, Warrensburg, MO

Now that Missouri joined as the 33rd state to have legalized marijuana in some form, employers must evaluate potential workplace issues and take steps to ensure a productive and safe workforce. Between federal laws, state laws, safety regulations and the current administration's stand on marijuana laws, there is a lot that employers need to know.

The Warrensburg Chamber of Commerce and Fisher Phillips invites you to attend our breakfast meeting that will address:

- Status of Missouri marijuana laws and how those affect your business
- The legal climate of marijuana across the United States
- Answer common employer questions:
 - Can employees consume marijuana at work?
 - Can I drug test applicants and employees?
 - Do I have to let employees work while high?
 - How do medical marijuana laws affect leave laws - FMLA, ADA, workers' compensation?

This program will navigate the legal minefield of legalized marijuana to help identify the best employment practices for your company.

Western Missouri Medical Center will be sponsoring breakfast for attendees.

Shout Out

Check Barry MVMA Veterinarian of the Year - Dustin Steinhoff, Staff Writer—Daily Star-Journal

WARRENSBURG — After more than 31 years in the veterinarian profession, Lifetime Animal Center owner and veterinarian Dr. Chuck Barry received the Missouri Veterinary Medical Association Veterinarian of the Year award in January 2019.

The MVMA prefers to keep the winner of each year's award a secret until the later part of the ceremony, with the exception being someone with a relationship to each year's recipient.

The person chosen is then tasked with announcing the winner of the award at the ceremony.

"I did not know until the moment they announced it," Barry said. "The entourage of people started coming in from the back of the room, I couldn't see who they were and we were all waiting to see who it would turn out to be. I suddenly realized it was Diane Thompson from Warrensburg and I thought, 'Oh my goodness.'"

County Clerk Diane Thompson was followed by Barry's family as they made their way to the stage where Thompson spoke about Barry and announced he had been chosen as the recipient of the 2019 MVMA Vet of the Year award.

"I was shocked and humbled," Barry said. "It's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. You don't get to be Veterinarian of the Year twice. It was emotional for me."

Barry decided what his future career would be at a young age.

Growing up, he was always around animals such as cows, pigs, horses, dogs and cats.

It was during this time in his life that he met a mixed animal practice veterinarian who treated his family's livestock and became fascinated with the veterinarian profession.

"I became really enchanted with a local veterinarian in Milan, Missouri, Dr. Dickson as I remember him," Barry said. "I started focusing on that when I was in the fifth grade."

Barry continued his path to becoming a veterinarian, graduating from the University of Missouri with a B.S. in agriculture in 1984 and his doctorate of veterinary medicine in 1987.

"As much as you can make a bargain with God, I made a bargain that I would be the best vet that I could ever be if he would open the doors," Barry said. "By his grace, he did open the doors it seems."

Barry worked for a veterinary practice for 10 years before February 1997 when Barry and his wife and business partner, Denise, opened Lifetime Animal Center.

In December 2018, the Lifetime Animal Center facility moved to their current location at 227 S.E. State Route 13.

"Many small businesses fail, in fact most of them do. When you open your own business, if you're in veterinary medicine anyway, it's like having six jobs that are full-time, but only one pays the rent," Barry said.

Barry and Lifetime Animal Center were also the recipient of the Warrensburg Daily Star-Journal 2019 Best of the 'Burg award in the veterinary clinic category.

"The community has been very welcoming, warm and supportive of our business and what we've tried to provide in the form of veterinary services," Barry said. "I couldn't dream of being anywhere else."

UCM Lifelong Learning Series to Present Award-Winning Songwriter Forest Sun

WARRENSBURG, MO (Sept. 11, 2019) – UCM's Lifelong Learning Series will begin its fall season with a presentation by troubadour and award-winning songwriter Forest Sun on Sept. 21 at 11 a.m. at Java Junction, 112 N. Holden Street in Warrensburg.

During the presentation, Sun will share his experiences in music, film and the visual arts. With more than 65 million plays on Pandora, he enlivens audiences around the globe with his wealth of songs and stories, all sung and told in a laid-back California style. Sun's soulful music draws on a deep well of Americana and has been compared to everyone from Jack Johnson, John Mayer and The Avett Brothers to Van Morrison and Bob Dylan. He will also be performing on Sept. 20 as part of the Concert at the Courthouse series.

UCM's Lifelong Learning Series features a wide array of programs for the general public during the academic year. The next upcoming event will be a presentation on Oct. 3 by Amber R. Tip: Make a plan to stay linked to new summer friends.

Don't miss this opportunity to maintain these connections.

This summer did you go to a pool party, a wedding or two, camp in a national park, or visit friends and family in another part of the country? And, did you meet anyone new?

Take a few moments to replay who you met or reconnected with over these last few months. Now how can you stay connected with them—easily? Are they someone you can ask to join you on LinkedIn or Facebook? Do you have any photos you could share with them? Should you plan to reconnect? Same time, same place next year? Here's a story:

There's a resort called Yellow Point Lodge on Vancouver Island. It's a very rustic place with funky cabins and a 'family-style' main dining hall. Families have come for generations and they usually book the same time every year because they want to hang out with their once-a-year friends. People who were originally strangers passing the syrup at breakfast, or simply enjoying the sunset next to each other in one of the yellow deck chairs, renew their friendships in person every summer.

Did you meet anyone interesting this summer? Tell us here!

Tip: The name game...it's not that difficult.

Build better relationships in a global work world by doing this.

Ahir Shah in The Guardian states, "I refuse to believe my name is too difficult for people to pronounce". He makes a good point. Surely we can learn to pronounce a person's name rather than asking them to anglicize it or come up with an easy nickname.

Ahir shares the story of his dad who worked with a man named Kenneth. "When Kenneth asked if he could call my dad Victor, my father responded: 'That depends. Can I call you Kanubhai?'" They remained Vikram and Kenneth." Point taken...

Tip # 3 in our BCBusiness opinion piece "Networking in different cultures and countries" explains why people on a conference or video call with international colleagues or customers should be able to properly pronounce the names of everyone on the call.

And, of course there's an app to help you do that!

Question: are there people in your own office or company whose name you aren't sure how to pronounce so you avoid using it? See our tip on the importance of saying a person's name in conversation.

FAST COMPANY

Mindfulness, creativity, and a balanced working environment

Daily Star-Journal

Why you didn't nail that interview

Your résumé is getting recruiters' attention, but when it's time for the interview, you tank. Be aware of four common mistakes you might be making when meeting with potential bosses.

Get ready for a work-computing overhaul

Forget Patricia from accounting. Microsoft is looking to AI as the future of the office. The company wants to build tools to help people squeeze more out of their time in an age of distraction. The buzzword is microproductivity.

There's Strength in Numbers

A medical plan that lets small businesses join together for more plan options and lower rates

Say hello to the Chamber Benefit Plan.

A multiple employer welfare arrangement (MEWA) designed for small businesses who are members of a qualified Chamber of Commerce, like ours.

When it comes to providing employees with cost-saving health care coverage, small businesses are at a big disadvantage compared to their larger counterparts. Because of their smaller size, their claims risk pool is spread out across a much smaller employee population. That can result in higher, less stable insurance rates – and fewer viable plan choices.

Fortunately, there's a simple and affordable medical plan alternative. It's called the Chamber Benefit Plan and it's just one of the many advantages of joining our chamber.

Powered by the Missouri Chamber Federation, administered by The Health Plan (THP) with network access from HealthLink and Freedom Network select, the Chamber Benefit Plan is available to small group employers in Missouri who have 2 to 50 eligible employees.

Advantages that make a real difference:

- › Shared overall claims risk across a large pool
- › Competitive, medically underwritten rates
- › Fixed, predictable monthly payments
- › Choose from a variety of plan designs, including 10 PPO and three HSA options
- › Minimize the impact of ACA mandates while offering coverage to all eligible applicants, regardless of health status
- › Access to HealthLink/Freedom Network Select network
- › Coverage for claims run-out/terminal liability coverage
- › Simple, streamlined administration

Not a member of our chamber yet? We'll help you join today!

Chamber members have access to a full range of high-quality plans and options that can lead to significant savings. Contact us today to learn more.
